II. OTHER ITEMS

1. [redacted] took part in the two-day OTR Audio-Visual Exhibit by preparing and manning a display of teaching machines and programmed textbooks. A moderately priced teaching machine ($80.00) as well as a quite inexpensive cardboard machine ($5.00) were borrowed from a local manufacturer to demonstrate the variety of equipment available to present linear programs. In addition, the AutoTutor, which OTR is renting from [redacted] was also put on display as an example of the kind of equipment used to present branching programs. A range of both linear and branching programmed textbooks were also made available for inspection by the visitors.

2. We have received the sum of approximately $31,000 from OTR for [redacted] Programmed Learning.

3. C/A&E accompanied [redacted] on a TDY from 22 June through 26 June. The purpose of the trip was to meet with individuals who had received our [redacted] Interrogation Training and to present to them the most recent information. At the same time, certain administrative personnel were briefed on the purpose of our training and given an outline of the material covered during the three training sessions which had been held at the [redacted]. C/A&E also performed an assessment during the [redacted].

4. [redacted] secretary called to make another appointment to meet with DTR. The days of his availability did not correspond
